RECYCLING / COMPOSTING ~ WHAT GOES WHERE?

Back by popular demand, our June meeting will be all about current rules and protocol for Shoreline recycling and composting, as they seem to change regularly. Our guest speakers will be Quinn Apuzzo, Government and Community Relations Manager and Elizabeth Szorad, Waste Zero Specialist, from Recology Cleanscapes. As you know Recology Cleanscapes is the garbage, recycling and composting company serving Shoreline. Hopefully you've seen some of our social media attempts at requesting any questions you may have to present to them during the meeting. We all at times have questions as to whether a plastic bottle or container from the grocery store is for recycling or not. Do we need to clean/wash and dry our items first? Can screw top lids remain on plastic drink bottles? Now, with all the compostable items, how can we tell for sure if it is compostable or not? Can lids stay in cans? Also, do we have to flatten our cardboard and/or boxes, like cereal or frozen food items? Speaking of frozen food items, are these boxes recyclable or compostable? So many different items resulting in many decisions to be aware of before disposing of them in their proper location so that we keep more out of our landfills.

Please join us for this informative night and get answers to these and all your questions. By all means bring your items that you have questions about if you find it easier. Invite all your neighbors too!

POLLINATOR GARDEN WORK PARTY

Shoreline Garden Club is hosting its first annual Spring Work Party for this unique pollinator garden added last Fall with the help of a 2018 City of Shoreline Environmental Mini-Grant. Located on N. 195th between Meridian Ave and 1st Ave NE, this garden has over one hundred plants that bees, birds, butterflies, beetles and bats will all find food and habitat, while also pollinating plants so they can grow and flourish! Butterflies especially need specific plants to lay eggs and forage. Join volunteers on Saturday, June 8th from 9-11 am as they weed and add new mulch while celebrating the upcoming National Pollinator Week in late June!

MISSED LAST MONTH'S MEETING?

Did you miss last month's meeting with Nathan Daum, Economic Development Project Manager for the City of Shoreline? If so, he updated us on a number of different projects around the City. One of particular interest with the neighbors was Shoreline Place, formerly Aurora Square and the Sears store. There is a lot of information at this website: <https://shorelineplace.com> Be sure to join us next time he comes to our ELNA meeting.
